Phantasy - Land of the Beyond Mar 18 2020 A modern-day-fairy-tale fantasy novel partially based on facts set in the Singapore of the '80s with a sci-fi prologue and a fairy-tale opening. Self-explanatory, really (read it to find out). Written mainly in American English with a dash of Singlish, and sometimes, broken English (on purpose, of course!). Main character is Dave, a prince from the fantasy kingdom of Phantasy, who was left in the care of a childless couple, the Teos from Singapore, as a baby by his father, King Devonus, in order to save him from the evil clutches of a nefarious warlock called Secondras. Supporting characters include a royal palace guard dog-man called Musscus, the royal head steward Hootus, and of course, the main character's love interest who only appeared near the end of the story for a brief period only. There are a lot of made-up interesting names in this fantasy novel. It is a work of fiction after all. The readers will be able to identify with the characters as the story unfolds with plenty of interesting and unexpected moments. Started out as a lone fantasy book, but became apparent that it was part of a trilogy as I continued working on it. Guaranteed to make the reader laugh, hate, love, and weep as he or she follows and grows with the book to the end. Many ideas in this book are not found in most other books of the same genre. Unique and one-of-a-kind, really. Go on, read it, and find out more. I dare you to!

Wings of Fancy Feb 26 2021 Featuring scripts for well known classical fantasy stories, as well as more current entries into the genre, Wings of Fancy addresses subgenres such as: Fairies and Enchanted Creatures; Fantastic Beasts and Talking Animals. Each script offers a summary of the story with background information on the author and story, plus suggested further readings. Staging and presentation directions are included, as is a glossary of new and unfamiliar terms. Unlike most other books of this type, lesson plans and project ideas are also included for each story. Grades 4-8 The Readers Theatre series presents original scripts written for the purpose of teaching a specific literary genre. Each book is composed of 24-28 scripts, keyed to published books, plays, poems or stories in that genre, encouraging students to read the originals to accomplish the correlated project. Staging and presentation directions are included. Two-leveled (lower and higher level) projects with all needed lesson plans, forms and discussion are also provided for each script.

Hollywood's (m)Other Aperture Nov 13 2019 This study explores how mainstream movies lend themselves to the portrayal of imagery that reflects the earliest stages of human development. Filmmakers take full advantage of this rich, body-centered source of human experience. Avatar, Minority Report, and Annihilation, among the other movies explored in this book, incorporate patterns of images that (re)present pre-Oedipal (m)Others, FEMININITY, and the originary maternal authority. The book explores how mainstream movies increasingly expose mass audiences to signs and resonances from our prelingual intrauterine and extrauterine psychological experiences. In addition, it compares and contrasts how the prelingual experience as depicted in these movies relates to themes of inclusivity that encompass diverse film inquiry, including queer theory, as well as human/nonhuman animal kinship and hybridity. In sum, the text analyses how Hollywood movies depict and integrate the prelingual experience into the commercial cinematic apparatus and how this inspires new understanding of plurality, FEMININITY and originary maternal authority in culture and society.

Wings In The Night Part 1/Twilight Phantasies/Twilight Memories/Twilight Illusions/Beyond Twilight/Born In Twilight/Twilight V Feb 21 2023 Indulge in six dark and sexy tales from Maggie Shayne's award-winning vampire series, Wings in the Night. Part 1 of the collection includes Twilight Phantasies, Twilight Memories, Twilight Illusions, Beyond Twilight, Born in Twilight, and Twilight Vows.

Angel's Pain Aug 23 2020 Blood and Vengeance The first sustains Briar's life, the second gives it meaning. But in her pursuit of Gregor, the vampire she's determined to kill, Briar falls in with a gang of do-gooders who are after him, too. Their reluctant leader, Reaper, the vampire hit man with the heart of gold, keeps trying to see good in her. She keeps telling him he's mistaken. There isn't any. Briar tells herself that Reaper and his gang of misfit vamps mean nothing to her, that she'll be gone as soon as she's achieved her goal and watched Gregor die slowly for all he did to her. Even after repeated, mind-blowing sex with Reaper, she insists there are no feelings involved. And when she has to share blood with the odd little vampire Crisa to save her life-- an act that always creates a powerful bond between undead beings--she still denies caring. But when their lives are on the line, Briar finds herself risking her own ass to save them. Also, she learns to love stilettos. Includes brand new short: Young Rhiannon in the Temple of Isis 14: Vampires

DADA, Surrealism, and the Cinematic Effect Mar 30 2021 This book deals with the early intellectual reception of the cinema and the manner in which art theorists, philosophers, cultural theorists, and especially artists of the first decades of the twentieth century responded to its advent. While the idea persists that early writers on film were troubled by the cinema's lowly form, this work proposes that there was another, largely unrecognized, strain in the reception of it. Far from anxious about film's provenance in popular entertainment, some writers and artists proclaimed that the cinema was the most important art for the moderns, as it exemplified the vibrancy of contemporary life. This view of the cinema was especially common among those whose commitments were to advanced artistic practices. Their notions about how to recast the art media (or the forms forged from those media's materials) and the urgency of doing so formed the principal part of the conceptual core of the artistic programs advanced by the vanguard art movements of the first half of the twentieth century. This book, a companion to the author's previous, Harmony & Dissent, examines the Dada and Surrealist movements as responses to the advent of the cinema.

Wings of Time and Fate Jul 22 2020 Forbidden Magic. Powerful enemies. A desperate fight for freedom. Eona has been running all her life. Her ability to manipulate time makes her unique, but in a land where magic is outlawed, it's also put a target on her back. Kidnapped, powerless and Twilight Prophecy Sep 23 2020 A prophecy pressed into ancient stone tablets predicts the end of vampire kind. This can only be avoided, the cuneiform symbols say, by the intervention of "the two who are opposite and yet the same." Part-human, part-vampire twins James, who can heal and Brigit, who can destroy, believe they are those two. James' first step in saving his friends, his family, his people, is to get his hands on the rest of that tablet and the woman who can translate it—Professor Lucy Lanfair. To save his species, he'll abandon the very values and principals he's lived by. He'll pluck an innocent woman from her life and drop her into the middle of his kindred's fight for survival. And he will extract her aid whether she wants to give it or not. Archaeologist and translator Lucy Lanfair has no idea that she holds the key to preventing the annihilation of an entire species. But she soon realizes she holds far more than just that—for the vampire's soul is also in her hands. To love him is to rise to the call of destiny, despite the danger. To save her love, she must save his entire race. Includes a thrilling new installment of Young Rhiannon in the Temple of Isis.

The Wing of Madness Apr 11 2022 In The Wing of Madness, Daniel Burston chronicles R. D. Laing's meteoric rise to fame as one of the first media psycho-gurus of the 20th century, and his spiralling decline in the late 70s and 80s.

Poetry and Phantasy Oct 17 2022 In this book the author examines the relation between historical materialism and psychoanalysis for the understanding of literature. He analyzes central poems in the canonical tradition, poems of courtly love, Romantic poetry, and the modernism and post-modernism of Eliot and Pound.

Phantasy, Image Consciousness, and Memory (1898-1925) Mar 10 2022 This is the first English translation of Husserliana XXIII, the volume in the critical edition of Edmund Husserl's works that gathers together a rich array of posthumous texts on representational consciousness. The lectures and sketches comprising this work make available the most profound and comprehensive Husserlian account of image consciousness. They explore phantasy in depth, and furnish nuanced accounts of perception and memory.

The House of Shattered Wings Jan 28 2021 Paris in the aftermath of the Great Magicians War. Its streets are lined with haunted ruins, Notre-Dame is a burnt-out shell, and the Seine runs black, thick with ashes and rubble. Yet life continues among the wreckage. The citizens retain their irrepressible appetite for novelty and distraction, and The Great Houses still vie for dominion over France's once grand capital. House Silverspires, previously the leader of those power games, now lies in disarray. Its magic is ailing; its founder, Morningstar, has been missing for decades; and now something from the shadows stalks its people inside their very own walls. Within the House, three very different people must come together: a naive but powerful Fallen, an alchemist with a self-destructive addiction, and a resentful young man wielding spells from the Far East. They may be Silverspires' salvation; or the architects of its last, irreversible fall . . .

Wings of Fire Jun 20 2020 Damian has a simple job to do, track down a bail jumper, capture him, deliver him to the penal colony on Luna 1, and collect his bounty. The human bail jumper, Noel, turns out to be trouble, not in the trying to escape sense, but in the won't shut up sense. He's grating on Damian's very last nerve. Having to make a detour to his apartment to clean up, Damian finds there's more to the human than he thought possible. The human has soul and a curious back history. Being in heat, Damian finds himself drawn to the human. It goes against every bit of logic, but his desire overwhelms him. He needs to be bred by this particular male. Will he follow through? And if he does, what will that lead to?

The double act of Oedipus and Sphinx unriddled Apr 18 2020 Sphinx is Imagination lighting up our blind senses. She corresponds to Aether, or Spiritual Insight (Buddhi-Manas) opened up. There are two Oedipodes, a Divine Oedipus, being a ray of pure mind self-exiled from its celestial abode. And a Worldly Oedipus, a reflection of the same ray imprisoned in an impure body. Both are sentenced to suffer conjointly on earth. Inspired by the Imagination and Will of Divine Oedipus, animal man begins awakening his higher faculties. If he succeeds, he will ascend from star to star, from one world to another, circling onward to rebecome the once pure planetary Spirit that he had started from. Bereft of Ariadne's thread of philosophy, Worldly Oedipus remains spiritually blind and unlearned, unable to escape from the labyrinth of matter. Enmeshed in the darkness of duality, his unmastered passions condemn him to involuntary exile from the solidarity of the One — a perfect recipe for drama. Sphinx is the greatest mystery of past, present, and future initiations. How the tetrad changing into a duad is explained by the triad. Man's clinging to the form allowed the idea to be forgotten. Sphinx is the living palladium of humanity. But she devours only blind interpreters.

Twilight Phantasies (Mills & Boon Nocturne) Aug 15 2022 In two centuries of living death, Eric Marquand had never once cried out against the cruel fate that had condemned him to walk forever in shadow.

Growing Wings May 20 2020 A creative, suspenseful novel from award-winning writer Laurel Winter... Eleven-year-old Linnet is growing wings. Auburn wings, with soft feathers. For a while, she can hide them, but they grow larger and larger, almost seeming to take on a life of their own-while taking away Linnet's old life. Her mother, Sarah, knows what it feels like...almost. For when the young Sarah began to grow wings, her mother-Linnet's grandmother-cut them off. Sarah is a "cutwing." She swore that she would let her own daughter's wings grow when the time came, but now that it's actually happening, she has no idea what to do. And Linnet -- lost, confused, fledgling Linnet -- doesn't either...

Born in Twilight Jan 16 2020 Strong sexual content Jameson Bryant is a rare man. He's one of the Chosen, a mortal with the Belladonna antigen, the only kind who can become a vampire himself. But he's not ready to make that decision, despite that vampires helped raise him. The undead are some of his best friends. Now a man grown, Jameson knows more about vampires than most—so when he hears the cries of one who is alone and suffering, he's not afraid to go to her. He finds her alone, half-starved, and mad with hunger. But when he tries to help the beautiful, violet-eyed vampiress, she attacks. Angelica was a novitiate nun about to take her solemn vows when a creature of the night changed her against her will. On her own, unsure how she'll survive or whether she even wants to, she refuses to feed on the living and further damn her soul... until the hunger takes over. When a young man tries to help her, she loses control. Nine months later, the virgin nun is giving birth—in captivity. Jameson would have died that night if not for his vampiric family. The dark gift didn't preserve his life—it gave him a new one, along with the power to rescue his daughter. He'll save Amber Lily and her murderous mother from the vampire hunters who've been his lifelong enemies. And all the powers of heaven and earth won't stop him. BONUS! A never-before-published short story: Rhiannon in the Temple of Isis 5: The Reckoning

Prince of Twilight Feb 09 2022 Strong sexual content Dracula is far older than his legend. For centuries, he has awaited the reincarnation of his one true love, Elisabeta, foretold by the vampire Rhiannon centuries ago. And now he has found her. But she has not returned to him in the way he expected. Instead, her restless and frustrated spirit is possessing a modern-day woman named Tempest, who is called "Storm." The nickname, he finds, is fitting. Stormy has been sensing a presence inside her fighting to take control. That feeling becomes even more overwhelming when the dark prince is near. She is torn between her own passion for Vlad Dracul, and the passion of the entity lurking within. The parasitic and jealous Elisabeta wants to kill her hostess when she realizes they both love the same man. It's a fight to the death within a single body. But only Vlad can choose which of his loves will live and which will die.

Twilight Vows Feb 15 2020 On an Irish country road in 1808, Donovan O’Roark is killed by a vampire, his bloodless body carried home by grieving loved ones. Later, he wakes in a coffin at his own funeral. His family turns on him. His own father tries to drive a stake through his heart. For a time he finds refuge in the nearby castle with a new friend, but a mob of villagers drives them out into the rising sun. He barely escapes with his life. His friend is not so lucky. Tonight, Donovan O’Roark returns to Dunkinny. So does Rachel Sullivan. After earning a degree in the States, she’s again slinging beers in her hometown. But her true goal in coming home is to unravel the legends of the Castle of Donovan O’Roark. They say he was a vampire. A stranger with a striking resemblance to his ancestor, who bears the same name, has taken up residence in the castle. The locals fear he’s the vampire, back for revenge. Rachel thinks he’s her way in. But it’s getting out that’s the problem. As passion explodes between captive and captor, a deadly superstition smolders in the village below, and when violence erupts, they’ll need more than their burgeoning love to survive.
